Date: 9 April 2006

Description: This is a day hike designed for the new scouts. We will further discuss safe hiking skills, basic equipment, troop trek procedures, etc. This is another good hike for parents to attend. Scouts should wear good hiking boots, a hat, sunscreen, and if you have or can borrow a backpack – this will be an easy enough hike to try it out (put some clothing or other type articles in it in order to get the feeling of wearing a backpack – do not bring a sleeping bag, tent, etc.); if you do not have a backpack, bring a daypack and put some weighted articles in it. Ten essentials. Bring approximately two quarts of water per trekker (and adults).
